

ANS Correspondence

Voynow, Edward B.
[Chicago, IL]

1919

TELEPHONE CENTRAL 6365

EDWARD B. VOYNOW

DIAMONDS AND FINE DIAMOND JEWELRY

ROOM 708 COLUMBUS MEMORIAL BLDG.

CHICAGO SAVINGS BANK BLDG.

31 NORTH STATE ST.

CITIFONE & CO., 3853, I.L.

ROOM 506 COLUMBUS MEMORIAL BLDG.

31 NORTH STATE ST.

PHONE CENTRAL 3853.

7/12/19

The American Numismatic Society

New York

Gentlemen

Kindly inform me whether your New Peace
Medals are to be sold or awarded, as I am anxious to get one.

If it is for sale how much does the silver medal cost

Yours truly

B. Voynow

July 114, 1919.

Edward B. Voynow, Esq.,
Room 506, Columbus Memorial Bldg.,
31 North State Street,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Sir:-

In response to your inquiry of the 12th, I beg to advise that the bronze copies of our Peace Medal are for sale at five ($5) dollars each. We shall be glad to send you as many as you desire at this price.

The silver medals are reserved for the members of our Society, but if you will permit me to propose your name as an associate it will give me great pleasure to do so.

Our Society issues medals from time to time and as a member you would receive our annual Journal and notices of all the medals issued. You would be under no obligation to subscribe for them unless you so desired. As an example we are now publishing our Independence Day Medal the subscription of which, is limited to our members and we propose to issue a medal to commemorate the coming visit of the Prince of Wales next fall. This is being designed by one of the best of our American Medalists.

I am enclosing an application card if you will let me have your signature to it I can send you a silver Peace Medal at once otherwise, I could not be able to send anything but a bronze copy.

Very respectfully yours,

(Fore

Secretary..